“There’s Such a Thing as Sleep Insurance?? A Primer on Employment Practices Liability Insurance”

During this session, Philip Siegel (Hendrick, Phillips, Salzman & Siegel, P.C.) will provide an overview of Employment Practices Liability Insurance, which is jokingly referred to as sleep insurance because a typical EPLI policy provides coverage for those employment-related claims that tend to keep roofing contractors up a night. We will discuss the typical coverage afforded by a standard EPLI policy and the most common exclusions. He will discuss the most common variables in and between different EPLI policies. For example, does EPLI provide coverage for punitive damages? How does the policy define the “insured”? A portion of the session will also address how best to avoid employment-related claims in the first place.
