This year's keynote speaker is the great Wayne Messmer.

A native-born Chicagoan, Wayne Messmer has built a successful career as a professional speaker, broadcaster, business owner, singer and announcer with various Chicago sports teams, most notably the Chicago Cubs, Chicago Wolves Hockey, and formerly the Chicago Blackhawks. He is the founder of a successful financial services firm that bears his name, as well as a founding partner of the Chicago Wolves Hockey Team. Wayne holds a Ph.D. in psychology and is the author of his best-selling book, The Voice of Victory. He is also a well-known voice on the Chicago radio scene with the popular Wayne Messmer Radio Show heard "Sundays at 7:00" on 90.9 FM / WDCB.org. In April 1994 he was shot in the neck in a random act of violence that left him with his life and voice in peril. No one knew then if he would survive, be able to speak or sing again, but his courage and conviction paved the way for his triumphant return. Included among his most memorable performances are the NHL All-Star Game at Chicago Stadium and at the 2016 World Series at Wrigley Field.
